

TORONTO, June 10, 2013 — Jack Lake Productions Inc., is pleased to announce preliminary work has begun on the ONE TRIBE comic book anthology, a non-profit book being published in association with James Waley of Pique Productions to raise funds in support of SHANNEN'S DREAM (www.fncaringociety.ca/shannens-dream), the organization that carries on the outstanding and courageous work done by the late Shannen Koostachin of Attawapiskat to improve the learning environment of aboriginal schools in Canada.

The One Tribe anthology will have the dimensions of a standard comic book with a page count of around 200 pages and all the creators involved will be from the vast array of outstanding Canadian talent of both aboriginal and non-aboriginal origin. Multiple copies of this book will be sent to schools on reserves across Canada, at no cost, and sold to various schools, libraries, comic shops and book stores everywhere through JLP's worldwide distribution network.

One Tribe will be divided into 3 sections with the first featuring aboriginal comic book creators and/or stories while the second section will highlight non-aboriginal comic book creators exploring First Nations topics and issues and the last section showcasing a wide variety of stories with the main goal, as with the rest of the publication, to engross and entertain the many and varied fans of the comic book medium.

An all-ages comic book anthology not just for kids, but suitable for readers of any age, One Tribe will contain storylines exploring a potpourri of humour, drama, slice-of-life, horror, adventure, science fiction and fantasy with a wide variety of art styles from the mainstream superhero and cartoon approach to alternative and underground.

June 1st, the first day of this month, was the 3rd anniversary of the untimely passing of Shannen Koostachin in 2010, a 15 year old girl who accomplished much in her short life to bring national attention to the deplorable conditions in First Nations schools on reserves in this country.

We are making this announcement early in this month to honour the memory of Shannen and will follow this up later in June, in recognition of Canada's NATIONAL ABORIGINAL DAY, with a more extensive media press release on this benefit comic book anthology production.
